

I strongly oppose overturning the current Do Not call list for NJ residents. Why should companies be able to call my phone number that I pay to maintain without my permission and harass me at all hours with unsolicited sales calls? If I want their product, I will give them my number myself. I should have the right to deny all caller that I wish! I am paying to have the phone service - what right do they have to take up my time and prevent me from taking other calls because I have to deal with the constant barrage of sales calls? I do not understand how their rights supercede my own. I have a right to expect a modicum of privacy in my own home. Unless they want to volunteer to pay my phone bills, they have no right to take up my time and interfere with my taking more important calls with their persistent spiels. Most companies refuse to remove you from their call lists once you get on them and often persist in calling daily, sometimes even every single blessed day! How is this fair to me? I am the consumer, paying for the phone service! I am the tax payer, asking my government to represent my wants and needs. I do NOT want to receive calls from telemarketers. Leave the Do Not Call list alone in NJ. We are happy with it just the way it is.
